SUBMISSION AND CONSIDERATION OF EXCEPTIONAL FACTORS AFFECTING STUDENTS' ASSESSMENT

1 Introduction

Throughout their studies, students are required to complete and submit, or sit, a wide range of assessments. This will require students to balance their workload and time management skills to ensure that assessments are submitted to stated deadlines. However, the College recognises that illnesses and difficult or distressing life events do occur, outside of students' control, and that it is a normal part of life to have to manage these and continue with work or study. Such circumstances may prevent students from completing assessments and any exceptional factors should be considered when determining students' results.

2 The Aim of the College's Procedures for the Submission and Consideration of Exceptional Factors affecting Students' Assessment.

- i To clarify the types of serious adverse events and/or circumstances that the College will consider as exceptional factors and to set out the process by which exceptional factors claims are to be submitted and considered.
- ii to ensure fair and equitable treatment of all students when considering exceptional factors, including appropriate provision for disabled students and those with chronic conditions.

3 What are Exceptional factors?

Exceptional Factors (EF) are exceptional, short-term events which have a serious impact on the student's assessment in one of two ways:-

- i preventing a student from attending, completing or submitting an assessment on time
- ii Significantly affecting performance in an assessment.

Exceptional Factors are serious events which impact upon performance. Exceptional Factors must be:

- Severe: The event or circumstance must have had a serious impact on assessment performance
- Unexpected: The student must have had no prior knowledge that a particular event would occur
- Unpreventable: There must have been no reasonable steps that the student could have taken to prevent the event or circumstance from occurring.
- Relevant: The event or circumstance must have occurred at the time of the assessment or during the period immediately leading up to the assessment.
- Corroborated: The claim for exceptional factors must meet the requirements for independent documentary evidence that are outlined in this policy.

It is important to note that even if extremely difficult, distressing or unpleasant events have happened, these are not in themselves exceptional factors. There must also be evidence of a demonstrable adverse effect on academic performance, which may take various forms, including that:

- the student has been unable to submit work by a deadline date or attend a presentation, test or examination
- the event or circumstances have meant that the work which has been completed by the student has not been to his/ her usual standard, with the result that the student has underperformed in the assessment task.

3.1 Changes in Circumstances

Long-term circumstances (life and occasional) may come within the scope of the Exceptional Factors Policy if there is a serious, unpredictable and unpreventable increase in their severity at the time of the assessment or in the period immediately leading up to the assessment. Full independent documentary evidence in support of the exacerbation of the circumstances (not just evidence of the circumstances themselves) would be required.

4 What are not "Exceptional Factors"?

4.1 *Examples of situations which would not normally be accepted as exceptional factors

All students are expected to conduct their work and study with maturity and diligence, and to cope with what could be reasonably considered to be normal life events. In addition, students should try to avoid situations which might otherwise lead to exceptional factors claims, and should try to limit adverse effects on academic performance.

Exceptional Factors are not a substitute for academic performance and should not be submitted as an insurance against possible poor performance. The acceptance of Exceptional Factors will not result in individual marks being raised.

4.2 *Examples of situations which could have been avoided, or in relation to which, a student could have acted to limit the impact of the circumstances

- completing and submitting coursework too late and missing deadlines (time management problems)
- non-availability of books or other resources
- losing coursework (not backed up)
- financial problems (other than cases of the most extreme hardship)
- house moves, family celebrations or other events where the student either has control over the date or may choose not to participate
- problems with postal delivery of work (students are advised to obtain receipts for assessments submitted in this manner)
- normal work commitments reducing time available for study or coursework• appointments (legal, medical, etc) which could be re-arranged
- a long-standing condition, such as susceptibility to hay fever
- misreading the examination timetable
- over sleeping / alarm clock not going off causing a student to be late for or miss an exam or assessment
- holidays or travel

4.3 *Long-Term Life Circumstances

Long-term life circumstances such as a disability or a chronic/on-going medical condition are not dealt with under the Exceptional Factors Procedures. If a student has a disability or medical condition that may affect their assessment, they should seek advice from the College's Student Services area.

If a disability or a chronic/ ongoing medical condition worsens significantly, or such a condition develops following the commencement of the programme of study, students should seek advice from the Student Services area.

5 Submission of Independent Evidence

Please refer to Appendix 1

5.1 *Independent Documentary Evidence

Claims for Exceptional Factors will not be considered unless they are supported by independent documentary evidence. The claim will be considered once the documentary evidence has been received.

5.2 Adequate Evidence

Independent evidence would normally be an original document on headed paper written and signed by an appropriate third party, giving details of the circumstance, its dates and/or duration, and, where possible, its impact. An appropriate third party would be one who knows the student in a professional capacity or one who can verify the circumstance from a position of authority (e.g. police officer, solicitor, GP, College Counsellor) and who is in a position to provide objective and impartial evidence. Electronic evidence such as faxes and emails will only be accepted from verifiable facsimile and email addresses.

5.3 Evidence in English

All evidence must be provided in English. If the documentary evidence is not in English, it is the student's responsibility to ensure that it is accompanied by a translation which has been certified as correct by a Public Notary or translated by an accredited translator (i.e. be a member of the Association of Translation Companies).

5.4 Tutor support

Students are advised to keep their tutor(s) informed of Exceptional Factors and ask them to provide a supporting statement on their application if relevant and appropriate.

5.5 Medical evidence

A student must submit medical evidence in support of an exceptional factors claim, for example if he/she is suffering a temporary serious incapacitating medical condition that may have directly affected his/her ability to attend or complete an assessment or to perform to the full extent of his/her ability. In such cases, any medical certificates/notes to support an exceptional factors claim must:

- relate specifically to the dates and duration of the illness
- contain a clear medical diagnosis or opinion and not merely report the claim that the student felt unwell, nor report any claim that there was reason to believe that the student was ill. It will probably be difficult for a student to obtain an acceptable medical certificate where a retrospective consultation and request is made of a doctor.

The College will not normally consider claims for Exceptional Factors that relate to long-standing controlled conditions, or self-limiting illness. This is because the student would normally have had the benefit of experience, medical knowledge or help to control the condition.

6 Submission Procedures

6.1 Exceptional Factors Form

Normally, the claim is made by means of an Exceptional Factors Form completed by the student. Where exceptionally a student is unable to complete the Exceptional Factors Form for valid reasons, a form may be submitted by an appropriate third party.

6.2 Confidentiality/ Personal Information

The confidential nature of information provided by students will be respected by the College in accordance with data protection requirements.

6.3 Assistance with Submission

If students require assistance with the procedural matters, such as completion of the Exceptional Factors Form or procedures in relation to the submission of Exceptional Factors to the College, they should contact the student services area.

6.4 Retrospective Claims

Retrospective claims for previous assessment periods will be rejected. A claim of Exceptional Factors can only be submitted in relation to the assessment period in which they occurred. A new claim must be submitted for each period of assessment affected.

6.5 Submission Dates

In relation to all assessment, claims must be submitted prior to the submission date for the assignment. Forms submitted after the deadlines will be not automatically are considered.

6.6 Timescale of exceptional factors

Any notification of exceptional factors must show that their timing was such that it might have adversely affected assessment, and must include evidence of the timing.

If there are exceptional factors which adversely affect a range of assessments, or if there are non-academic reasons which will adversely affect performance over a longer period, the student may wish to discuss some other course of action with the relevant Programme Leader/ Personal Tutor. This may include repeating the level of study.

7 How are exceptional factors considered?

7.1 Exceptional Factors Panels

Exceptional factors claims are considered by an Exceptional Factors Panel. Panels meet at intervals during the year.

Panels decide whether the circumstances described by students are valid exceptional factors or not, and assess whether or not they are likely to have adversely affected performance. Panels notify these decisions to students and to the appropriate Course Managers.

8 What happens if the Panel decides the circumstances are valid and acceptable?

8.1 Possible outcomes in the affected element of assessment

If a Panel is satisfied that a student's absence, failure to submit work, or poor performance, was due to a valid and acceptable cause, the Panel will:-

- i recommend to the Assessment Board that the student be assessed or reassessed as if for the first time, or without further penalty if already reassessed, in the unit in any or all of the assessments which the Panel decides were adversely affected. This will apply irrespective of whether the student has passed or failed the assessment concerned. This means that the student has another assessment opportunity, without being affected by exceptional factors.

- ii in cases where exceptional factors claims relate to coursework, an Exceptional Factor Panel may agree to offer the student an extension to the published submission date.

If in relation to (i) above, the student has already achieved a pass mark and is claiming underperformance, and then the student will be given the opportunity to take the assessment or reassessment again as if for the first time.

8.2 Continuing Inability to Proceed Owing to Exceptional Factors

Students with exceptional factors would normally be required to undertake an assessment as if for the first time (or second/ third time in the case of exceptional factors affecting reassessment), unless they were unlikely to be able to complete further assessment as a consequence of the circumstances. On advice from Exceptional Factors Panels, Boards of Examiners/Tutors would have the discretion to require medical evidence that the candidate was able to undertake further assessment. The final decision of the Assessment Board/Course Manager must take into account the programme requirements and ensure the learning outcomes are fulfilled.

A student whose health (or other) problems have prevented her/him making academic progress in the previous session, for example, in a second repeat of Year 1, will be referred to the appropriate Programme Manager for guidance on suitable courses of action.

9 What happens if the Panel decides that the circumstances are not valid and acceptable?

If the Panel decides that a student's absence, failure to submit work, or poor performance, was not caused by exceptional factors, or that the claim and/or evidence provided does not demonstrate exceptional factors, the claim will not be accepted.

This means that the College has decided that the assessment was not affected by the circumstances and the mark awarded by the tutor will stand.

10 Communication of Decisions to Students

Students will be notified of the decision by the Panel in the following categories, within 5 working days of the relevant Panel meeting:

- (a) were considered to be substantial and appropriate action was taken
- (b) were not considered substantial and no action was taken.

The decisions of the Exceptional Factors Panel are final and any challenge to these decisions must be submitted via the appeals procedure.

A3	BEREAVEMENT If the student has been affected by a death of someone other than a close relative, (partner, parent, child, close family member), there will be a requirement to clarify the relationship to the deceased and the impact upon performance in assessment.	A + E
A4	PERSONAL/EMOTIONAL PROBLEMS AND TRAUMA This can include a whole range of issues and can include separation from spouse/partner, conflict with others, acute examination stress etc. The statement must verify how the student has been affected and what impact this has had upon assessment. It is not sufficient to just state that the circumstances have occurred. Examination stress is a common experience and not considered an exceptional factor (unless in an acute form which can be documented either by a counsellor or a doctor). The typical symptoms include: anxiety, nausea, sleep disturbances, etc, which are not considered to be good reasons for missing an examination.	A + (B or F or G)
A5	VICTIM OF CRIME The student was the victim of a crime that has been reported to the appropriate authority for investigation and that crime was likely either to have prevented the student's attendance on the date the assessment element was due to be undertaken or to have prevented the student from submitting the assessment element on the due date, or to have affected his/ her performance during the period the student might reasonably have been expected to give time to the production of the assessment element. It is acknowledged that in certain circumstances victims of crime will not have contacted the Police, in such circumstances evidence from a counsellor or doctor will be accepted.	A + N
A6	PLACEMENT ISSUES This problem will most typically affect students on placements of a nature which can be emotionally distressing (e.g., counselling, social work, etc.). These students often have to submit work based on taped interviews with clients. It is often the case that certain interviews cannot be taped or clients fail to turn up for interviews which can delay completion of the work.	A + M

A8	WORK COMMITMENT (Part-time students only) The College appreciates that many students work to finance their studies however full-time students will not normally be eligible to claim for work-related Exceptional Factors. It is the student's responsibility to decide whether he/she can comply with the requirements of the course before enrolling at the College. Part-time students should only submit Exceptional Factors if the work requirement is unexpected and/or non-negotiable.	A + P

A10	COMPUTER PROBLEMS            Computer problems experienced due to the failure of College network systems will only be considered if the network failure exceeds 24 hours. Students should plan to finish and submit coursework prior to the deadline in order to limit the impact of such a problem. Routine computer problems such as viruses, disk corruption, printer problems, and short term network problems are not acceptable as Exceptional factors. Students are expected to take proper precautions and make backup copies of data.	A + R

This includes allowing for public transport strikes or delays, road closures or problems with private transport such as a car breakdown or traffic jam.	A + T

A13	OTHER SERIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES            The list of Exceptional Factors is not exhaustive and the College appreciates that other serious Exceptional Factors may arise which are not detailed in this policy. If a student feels that he/ she has been seriously affected by circumstances not covered in appendix 1 which meet the absolute criteria then an Exceptional Factors Form in accordance with this policy should be submitted.	A

Appendix 2: Exceptional Factors – Guidance on Types of Evidence
A	The student's statement of case.
B	Medical Certificate signed while the illness or incident was affecting the student, or other medical evidence such as copies of prescriptions, certificates of attendance at surgery or hospital, a doctor's opinion given after receiving the student's permission to release information. The Medical Certificate cannot just state that the student was unwell; it must be a confirmed diagnosis by the doctor and be specific about the nature of the illness and the likely impact it has had. The date of the certificate is important. It must be clear that you visited the doctor during the period of illness, not afterwards. Post-dated medical evidence and self-certificates will not be accepted.
C	Medical Certificate signed while the illness or incident was affecting the other person, or other medical evidence, together with a statement by the student about the nature of the relationship, explaining why their personal attention was necessary and why no other person could reasonably be expected to have provided attention. The Medical Certificate cannot just state that the person concerned was unwell; it must be a confirmed diagnosis by the doctor and be specific about the nature of the illness. The date of the certificate is important. It must be clear that the person concerned was diagnosed by a doctor during the period of illness, not afterwards. Post-dated medical evidence and self-certificates will not be accepted.
D	Midwife report (or similar) which demonstrates that specific complications have arisen in the pregnancy, which have impacted on the student's ability to perform the assessment. Evidence of medical appointments.
E	Death Certificate/ Coroner's Report. The College appreciates that Death Certificates are often difficult to obtain. However the requirement to see this documentation is in order to prevent fraudulent claims. The Death Certificate will be photocopied and the copy will be signed by the accepting administrator and the original returned to the student.
F	Corroboration from a person with whom the student has a professional, not a personal, relationship (eg signed copy from a professional counsellor/ doctor. This may include the student's personal tutor.
G	Corroboration by a member of the student's family.
H	Official correspondence from the Court or Tribunal Authority confirming attendance. Solicitor's letter detailing the nature and dates of the legal proceedings.
J	Letter of corroboration (that must explain why the commitment was non-negotiable and/or unanticipated) signed by the student's line manager or supervisor, or by an appropriately senior and authorised representative of the relevant organisation.
L	Letter from the appropriate sporting association or authority that explained why the absence was necessary.
M	Signed letter from the placement provider explaining the nature of the problem.
N	Corroboration of the reported crime from the Police or other investigating authority (eg copy of the Police/ crime report; signed copy from a professional counsellor/ doctor.
